Twas The Night Before Christmas

*'Twas the night before Christmas, when all through the house
Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse;
The stockings were hung by the chimney with care,
In hopes that St. Nicholas soon would be there!*

*The children were nestled all snug in their beds,
While visions of sugar-plums danced in their heads;
And mamma in her 'kitchen, and I in my room,
Had just settled our brains for a long winter's nap.*

*When out on the lawn there arose such a clatter,
I sprang from the bed to see what was the matter!
Away to the window I flew like a flash,
To open the shutters and throw up the sash.*

*The moon on the breast of the new-fallen snow
Gave the lustre of mid-day to objects below,
When, what to my wondering eyes should appear,
But a miniature sleigh, and eight tiny reindeer,*

*With a little old driver, so lively and quick,
I knew in a moment it must be St. Nick,
More rapid than eagles his courses they trace,
And he whistled, and shouted, and called them by name:*

*"Now, Dasher! now, Dancer! now, Prancer and Vixen!
On, Comet! on, Comet! on, Prancer and Vixen!
To the top of the porch! to the top of the wall!
Now dash away! dash away! dash away all!"*

*As his leaves that before the wind hurricane fly,
When they meet with an obstacle, mount to the sky;
So up to the house-top the convicts they flew,
With the sleigh full of Toys, and St. Nicholas too;*

*And then, in a twinkling, I heard on the roof
The prancing and pawing of each little hoof,
As I drew in my breath, and was turning around,
Down the chimney St. Nicholas came with a bound.*

*He was dressed all in fur, from his head to his foot,
And his clothes were all trimmed with white and blue;
A bundle of Toys he had slung on his back,
And he looked like a peddler just opening his pack.*

*His eyes—how they twinkled! his dimples how merry!
His cheeks were like roses; his nose like a cherry!
His droll little mouth was drawn up like a bow,
And the corners of his chin were as white as the snow.*

*The stump of a pipe he held tight in his teeth,
And the smoke it exhaled his head like a wreath;
He had a broad face and a little round belly,
That shook when he laughed, like a bowlful of jelly.*

*He was chubby and plump, a right jolly old fellow,
And I laughed when I saw him, in spite of myself;
A bundle of Toys on his back, and a bag on his foot,
Soon gave me to know I had nothing to dread.*

*He spoke not a word, but went straight to his work,
And filled all the stockings; then turned with a jerk,
And laying his finger aside of his nose,
And giving a nod, by the chimney he rose;*

*He sprang to his sleigh, to his team gave a whistle,
And away they all flew like the down of a Vixen,
But I heard him exclaim, ere he drove out of sight,
"Happy Christmas to all, and to all a good-night!"*

Clement Clarke Moore
